Rose infinie Rosé Cotes-de-Provence 2015

SCORE 3 Stars

Appearance Pale, pink salmon color.

Aromatics The aromatics are quite herbal and floral with hints of red berries coming through being met by citrus peel.

Flavor The palate is equally austere with the tart red berries shining through a bit more while the herbal and mineral notes compete for prominence.

Intensity & Texture Medium-bodied with a generous portion of vibrant acidity.

Cool Factor A We absolutely love vibrant and well-made Provence Rosé.

Value Grade C+ Rosé is style of wine that always seems to require more than one bottle. In an ideal world this would be under $15.

Analysis This Provence Rosé is made with a blend of Grenache and Cinsault. This is a classic wine from the Cotes-de-Provence in southeast France. Wine has been made here for at least 2,600 years and while many styles of wines are made here Rosé accounts for more than half of the total production. 85 points out of 100.

How to Enjoy Serve chilled as an ideal summer aperitif.
